Not Symptoms, but the Disease

It would seem to be a truth appreciated by all, and especially by professors of the healing art, that to remove the disease, not to alleviate its symptoms, should be the chief aim of medication. Yet in how many instances do we see this truth admitted in theory, ignored in practice. The [illegible] of that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is successful in so many cases with which remedies previously tried were inadequate to cope, is attributable to the fact that it is a medicine which reaches and removes the causes of the various maladies to which it is adapted. Indigestion, fever and ague, liver complaint, gout, rheumatism, disorder of the bowels, urinary affections and other maladies are [illegible] alleviated merely, but rooted out by it. It goes to the fountain head. It is really, not nominally, a radical remedy, and it endows the system with an amount of vigor which is its best protection against disease.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The senate this morning agreed by resolution to the appointment of Rev. J. G. Butler, D. D., of Washington, chaplain of the senate.

Among the petitions presented and referred to committees were a number from local assemblies of Knights of Labor [illegible] about the country favoring the building of the Hennepin canal.

After a brief discussion of the house bill increasing the pensions of widows and dependent relatives of deceased soldiers the senate adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Hahn.

SUES FOR SALARY.

Bayard Refuses to Send our Minister to Hayti to his Station.

CHICAGO, March 15.—An Inter Ocean Washington special says: C. W. Williams, a colored man, who was appointed minister to Hayti some days before the expiration of Arthur's term, has brought suit to recover $ [illegible] 00, the amount of his salary for [illegible] year. When he was appointed and confirmed by the senate he reported to Secretary Bayard for instructions before entering upon his position. Bayard refused to see him, and Mr. Williams remained in Washington waiting for his instructions, such as it is always given to ministers before they go to their posts. But for some reason Bayard did not give them and Williams was never able to [illegible]

All the while he remained in Washington reporting at the state department every day and asking for instructions. Finally he was informed by one of the subordinates that it would be useless for him to come any longer, as it was not proposed to give him his passport. He inquired why, and was told that Mr. Bayard preferred to send some body else there, and that his resignation would be acceptable. Mr. Williams declined to tender his resignation, and said that if he was not wanted he could be dismissed.

He made a draft on the department for his salary at the end of the year after his appointment according to the usual programme, but the draft was refused because he had performed no services for the government. At last he was informed that if he would tender his resignation salary would be paid him for at least three months, but he declined the proposition and has been in Washington ever since, making it a rule to go to the department once a week to inquire if his instructions have been prepared.

He has not resigned and has not been dismissed, but his salary has been refused. The first year of his term expired on February 10, and he has brought suit for his salary. The law says that the salary of an officer shall begin from the time he takes the oath of office, and shall continue until the date of his death, resignation or dismissal.

THE ANIMAL INDUSTRY BILL.

The House Committee on Agriculture Makes Important Amendments.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The house committee on agriculture to-day instructed Representative Hatch to report favorably the bill prepared by him amendatory of the act establishing a bureau of animal industry and providing means for the suppression of contagious diseases among cattle. The limit of twenty persons as the number of employes to be allowed in the bureau of animal industry is removed and the number is left discretionary with the commissioner of agriculture.

The chief amendment to the bill is in section 3, which relates to suppression of contagious and infectious diseases. This section is amended as follows:

That it shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to prepare such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the speedy and effectual suppression and extirpation of said diseases and to certify such rules and regulations to the executive authority of each state and territory, and invite said authorities to co-operate in the execution and enforcement of this act. Whenever the actions and methods of the commissioner of agriculture shall be accepted by any state or territory in which the pleuro-pneumonia or other contagious, infectious or communicable disease is declared to exist, and whenever the governor of a state or other properly constituted authority signifies his readiness to co-operate for the extinction of any contagious, infectious or communicable disease in conformity with the provisions of this act, the commissioner of agriculture is hereby authorized to expend so much of the money appropriated by this act as may be necessary in such investigation, in paying for animals as it is deemed necessary to slaughter as hereinafter provided, and in such disinfection and other means of protection as may be necessary to extirpate disease.

SLAUGHTER OF DISEASED CATTLE.

Provided that the commissioner of agriculture shall cause a special investigation to be made as to the existence of pleuro-pneumonia, foot and mouth disease, etc., in any part of the United States where he may have reason to suspect their existence, and upon the discovery of any of these diseases the commissioner of agriculture, with the consent, approval or co-operation of the governor or any other properly constituted authority of the state where such disease may be found, shall cause the appraisal of the animal or animals affected with or that have been exposed to such disease, and under the laws of the state provided for condemning private property for public use, shall cause the same to be destroyed, and pay the owner not to exceed three-fourths of such amount as the appraisers may determine to have been the value before being diseased or exposed, out of any moneys appropriated by congress for this purpose.

Provided further, that he shall not pay more than $[illegible]10 for an animal with pedigree recorded or recordable in the recognized herd books of the breed in which it may belong, or more than $[illegible]0 for an animal not pedigreed, and that in no case shall compensation be allowed for any animal slaughtered that may have contracted disease or been exposed to such disease in a foreign country, nor shall compensation be allowed to the owner of an animal where by reasonable diligence he could have prevented his animals from becoming exposed.

QUARANTINE.

And provided further, that when any state or territory in any section where contagious or infectious disease exists, which the commissioner of agriculture has declared to be dangerous to the animal industries of the nation, fails to make provision for its extirpation or to co-operate with the plans of the commissioner of agriculture for extirpation of such disease, the president of the United States, on presentation of the facts by the commissioner of agriculture, shall be authorized to declare in quarantine said state or territory or such part of said state or territory as he may deem dangerous to the animal industries of the country and to regulate or prohibit transportation of cattle out of said state, territory or district.

The act is amended so as to transfer the duty of guarding against these diseases in the district of Columbia from the district commissioners to the commissioner of agriculture. It is further amended so as to allow day time inspection of places where cattle are kept in the district of Columbia, and to punish by fine and imprisonment any person who endeavors to prevent such inspection, and a similar penalty is fixed for any person who knowingly conceals the existence of any such disease on his premises. The bill makes an appropriation of $2[illegible]0,000 to carry its provisions into effect.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST VILAS.

CHICAGO, March 15.—An Inter Ocean Washington special says: In his annual report Postmaster General Vilas stated that mail facilities between the United States and ports of Central and South America were fully adequate to the demands of business, and that no complaints have been made by those who use these mails. Notwithstanding this official statement letters complaining of the mail service have been received from Venezuelan and Panama merchants and also from Canadians who have mercantile relations with Central and South American countries. The United States, it should be understood, is under treaty obligations to take Canadian mails to Venezuela. It is said that people never know nowadays when to expect mails at Panama. Some times they are sent from New York by a British tramp steamer by way of Jamaica, while others come via New Orleans on the little steamer Lucy Miller, which makes a trip once a month. Very frequently letters from New York have been forty days en route to Panama. Local papers at Panama, both Spanish and English, express the most contemptuous opinions of the government of the United States, and one of them says that it scarcely seems possible that so great and progressive a nation should show so little regard to the commercial necessities of two continents.

PETITIONS FROM OREGON.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—A number of petitions were presented to the senate to-day by the Oregon senators. Dolph presented three from the chamber of commerce of Astoria—one asking that a life saving station be established on the south side of the mouth of the Columbia, another asking that $[illegible]0,000 be appropriated for improvement of the mouth of the Columbia and the third asking that settlers who bought land from the Oregon Central railroad which was erroneously supposed to be within the limits of the grant be permitted to purchase land from the government in preference to land jumpers who have seized it.

Mitchell presented two petitions—one from a large number of citizens of Oregon, asking that $[illegible]0,000 be appropriated for improvement of Yaquina bay, and the other also from a number of citizens, asking for the creation of another land district in Oregon.

IN DEFENSE OF AMERICAN PORK.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representative Phelps of New Jersey will under the call of states to-morrow present a memorial from the New Jersey state board of agriculture, praying congress to make diligent investigation into the reasons why American pork is absolutely excluded from Germany, Austria and other countries. In connection with this memorial Mr. Phelps will offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the secretary of state be and is hereby requested to transmit, if not incompatible with public interest, copies of all correspondence between his department and representatives of France, Germany, Austria and any other European [illegible] which has partially or entirely [illegible] the importation of American pork, referring to the [illegible] [illegible] for.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Senator Morrill to-day introduced a bill to appropriate $[illegible]000 for the erection of an extension of the executive mansion [illegible] of the present structure of equal and similar interior [illegible] and to be connected with the executive mansion by a corridor.

CALIFORNIA.

CONCERNING DISCRIMINATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Plenty of ammunition is being furnished by railroads now for the interstate commerce committee. It is remarked as a rate that, for example, it costs more to move old iron from Reno, Nevada, to San Francisco than it does to move the most costly lace goods from New York. A keg of nails shipped from Chicago to this city is carried to the Missouri river for [illegible] cents a 100 pounds. The same [illegible] shipped to Omaha, pays [illegible] cents per 100 pounds service in both cases being equal. Freight of all classes from Chicago is hauled to the Pacific coast at a less rate than it is to any point 100 miles west of the Missouri river. Of course it is the stress of war measures that makes the [illegible] rates so [illegible] low, but we fully understand that these inconsistencies are influencing public opinion. If congressional action should be taken in the matter as is proposed, [illegible] the transcontinental lines to cease this discrimination and scale their local freights and fares to correspond with through rates it would operate severely on all lines between the Missouri river and the coast, while lines to St. Louis and Chicago would suffer a heavy reduction of revenue. Some such action as this is to [illegible] contemplated in the Cullom bill which provides for refunding of all excess over the sealed rate to persons of whom higher rate is collected.

THE PREWETT MURDER TRIAL.

[illegible], March 15.—Mr. Campbell began argument for the prosecution in the Prewett murder case to-day. He began with an examination of the motives supposed to have prompted Prewett to murder Towers, which were shown to be a desire to get rid of one who by his knowledge of Prewett's land transaction had power to land him in prison. According to the killing itself he showed that the words proved that they could have been fitted only by one lying in ambush, and that the shots were fired from the roadside and not in front in self defense as alleged. Campbell charged [illegible] of reporters [illegible] rot [illegible] which was not however [illegible]

Judge Breckinridge charge to the jury occupied nearly [illegible] The case went to the jury shortly before [illegible] A little before the jury came into court [illegible] further instructions in regard to the verdicts which it would be proper to find against defendant [illegible] asked particularly about a verdict of second degree. After the jury was instructed it retired [illegible] further deliberations.

Later. There probably will be a verdict in the Prewett case [illegible] A ballot taken shortly after [illegible] stood [illegible] for conviction and three for a [illegible] with small chances for change.

A PECULIAR CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Judge Learden is trying a rather peculiar case which, if plaintiff's pleadings be true, shows one more instance of woman's folly and man's depravity. Mabel White, a child of 4 years, brings suit by her guardian, J. [illegible] Jarrett, against Robert E. White to compel him to support her as his illegitimate child. Complaint sets forth that White during years has acknowledged plaintiff as his child and permitted her to take his name, but that for the past year he has deserted her and refused to contribute to her support. Further that for six years White lived with Ada Harrison, mother of plaintiff, as her husband, and they associated as man and wife. The child asks that she be declared the daughter of her father and that he be ordered and compelled to pay $[illegible] per month for her support and education. White is a big, fine looking man about forty-two years of age, and is drummer for a wholesale house in this city. Answer to the complaint alleges that plaintiff's mother was at the time of the alleged liaison a woman who had been divorced from her former husband on grounds of adultery.

CHINESE INFORMING THEMSELVES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—The anti-coolie agitation is now the question of absorbing interest among Chinese residents of this city, and weekly editions of their own newspapers are eagerly looked for. Four Chinese papers published here last week contained full accounts of meetings of anti-coolie clubs, outrages committed on Chinese in various parts of California, Oregon and Washington territory, etc., and editorials on the probable effects of the labors of the Sacramento convention. The different editors are very busy preparing exhaustive accounts of the proceedings of the Sacramento convention, with editorial comments thereon, for the next issue. The general opinion among them seems to be that the agitation will be short lived, and that the Burlingame treaty will not be abrogated.

DEATH OF EX-GOV. IRWIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Ex-Governor Wm. Irwin died this morning after a week's illness. He had been failing for several weeks past and his death was not unexpected. The illness of which he died was Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was conscious to the last and died peacefully at his rooms in the Bella Vista house, corner Pine and Taylor streets. He leaves a widow and one daughter. It is stated that the estate of Ex-Gov. Irwin is estimated not to exceed $20,000.

A FRAUDULENT CERTIFICATE.

The Oceanic of the Pacific last night brought out from Port Townsend a Chinaman who held a custom house certificate issued by Port Townsend officials which showed very clearly on its face that it had been altered. Surveyor of the port Tinnin on the matter being referred to him by the inspector at once reported the facts to Collector Hager, and the Chinaman was refused landing. He is now in the custody of the customs officers.

THE EAST.

An Early Settlement of the Rate War Probable.

MEANWHILE CUTTING CONTINUES.

Additional Particulars of the Wreck of the Oregon—The Schooner Lost with All on Board—Notes from Eastern Points

NEW YORK, March 15.—It was generally conceded by railroad men to-day that a conference had practically taken place between transcontinental officials, and that the trouble will [illegible] be settled this week. It is expected that the final touches will be given to the agreement [illegible] now, and the details will be probably arranged by the traffic managers, Messrs. J. F. Goddard of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, [illegible] Kimball of the Union Pacific, and J. C. Stubbs of the Southern Pacific railroads, so that regular rates will probably go into effect next Monday.

The roads are making the most of their freedom. There are no freight rates that are worth mention. It was said that tin plate had gone up in price 50 cents per box on account of heavy shipments which had been made to the Oregon canneries. [illegible] it was cleaned out of this market, and that a [illegible] was on the wrecked steamer Oregon, and therefore this market is cut [illegible] This [illegible] lacks confirmation.

[illegible] INSTRUCTIONS.

The following telegram was sent from New York to Chicago to-night: [illegible] Chicago agents have been instructed to sell tickets, first class, New York to San Francisco, for $[illegible] and second class for $[illegible] with Sunset route, [illegible] the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe for $[illegible] first class [illegible] Kansas City and $[illegible] second and third class, with rebate of $[illegible] Agents will enter on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe contract that the holder is entitled to such and such rebate according to [illegible] Agents will sell any route from Chicago for [illegible]

The [illegible] of [illegible] through tickets on [illegible] this [illegible] the price is probably divided like this: [illegible] Baltimore and Ohio to Chicago, $[illegible], then [illegible] Chicago to Kansas City and the balance of [illegible] to San Francisco. At these the Atchison receives [illegible] cent per mile for first class passengers and half cent per mile for third class passengers.

AT SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—A very large increase in the number of tickets sold was the leading feature in the war of railroad rates to-day. There was no change in prices and the outlook for a settlement of the agreement between the transcontinental lines was less favorable than on Saturday last at the close of business hours. Nothing was learned at the offices here of what was done in New York at the meeting of representatives of the warring lines, and the day ended with the [illegible] determination among part of local railroad men to continue the fight in the same manner in which it has been conducted since the war began.

A CUT OF TEN DOLLARS.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The largest reduction yet made in passenger rates to the Pacific coast went into effect to-day. A cut of $10 on both first and second class tickets was obtainable, and this even [illegible] of Wilson of the Chicago, St. Louis and Missouri river passenger association issued a circular announcing the rates from Chicago to California points by all lines as follows: First class, $[illegible]0; second class, $1[illegible]. The Northwestern and St. Paul roads to-day restored passenger rates east from Council Bluffs. Two dollars was the extent of the cut, and it had only been inaugurated Saturday.

CUTTING AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—The Union Pacific announces an open rate on first class tickets between Missouri river and California points of $[illegible] and of $[illegible] for second class.

THE COLORADO POOL.

DENVER, March 15.—The Colorado-Utah pool meeting adjourned to-day to meet at the call of Pool Commissioner Finch. To-day's session was devoted to discussing the freight business, arranging the new agreement, fixing the percentages, etc., both as to Colorado and Utah business.

THE WRECK OF THE OREGON.

The Unknown Schooner Undoubtedly Lost with All on Board.

NEW YORK, March 15.—One of the sailors of the Oregon this morning said that immediately after the collision the hulk of the sailing vessel was seen drifting slowly by on the port side of the steamer, grazing her side as she passed astern. It was thought that she sank as soon as she cleared the Oregon, and as none of her crew are on the Fulda, he presumed they had all been drowned.

Capt. Cottier of the Oregon made only a verbal statement this afternoon to the British consul. The captain said that the course of the Oregon was north by west when a light was seen off the port bow. The steamer when struck was going eighteen knots per hour and the helm was put hard a-port. Chief Officer Matthews was in charge, and there were lookouts in the forecastle and at the foremast. The wind was west by north with a fresh and strong breeze. He could have rescued every soul on the Oregon with the boats she carried. The consul has decided to send the case to England for investigation and there the captain will fully report.

THE CHIEF OFFICER'S STATEMENT.

Chief Officer W. F. Matthews, to-day at the shipping office of the company in the presence of Agent Brown, made this statement:

I went on watch at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. It was dark, but the weather was tolerably clear. It was starlight, as daybreak had not begun. The fourth officer was on the lookout with me on the bridge, he being on the port and I on the starboard side. There were three men on the lookout also, two on the turtle back forward and one on the fore part of the promenade deck, who was also to keep a lookout and to pass any word from the other two men. The latter was an extra lookout. The collision occurred at about 4:[illegible] A. M. The first intimation I had of the proximity of the schooner was when a bright light was shown on the port bow. The light appeared to be a bright light held up at times and then it darted again so much so that I took it to be a pilot boat, and knowing that we were not going to take a pilot until getting up to the bar I put the helm hard a-port to bring him more broad. A pilot boat while cruising only carries a white light at the masthead. I assume the light I saw to have been held by a man standing on the schooner's deck. The fourth officer and myself saw it together. The lookout men saw it; they reported it but I did not hear them. We probably all saw it together. There were no other lights on her, and for that reason I concluded she was a pilot boat with her masthead light. The schooner had no lights and looked to me as though some one on the deck of the schooner grabbed the first light at hand and held it up. I cannot say how far the white light was away when I saw it, but I had no idea of a collision.

THE COLLISION.

When I put the helm aport the vessel had not changed her course, nor did she when the collision occurred. It was almost instantaneous. I could not see the sails or masts of the schooner until she was on the point of striking us. When I first saw the light I had no idea of a collision, and from the light I saw could form no idea in which direction the schooner was moving. She looked like a large schooner, but I could not tell how many masts she had, for the collision took place as I first noticed the schooner. She struck us a few feet forward of the bridge. It was a dead blow, but the steamer did not careen after she struck us. I ordered the engines stopped at once. The Oregon was coming around all the time and we tried to see what became of the schooner, but we could not see her anywhere. The captain came on the bridge as soon as he heard the engineer's telegraph. Immediately after the collision word was passed that the ship was making water. Meanwhile I looked around the horizon, but could not see the schooner. All was still. If she was afloat she would have been on the stern of our steamer and as the sun came up in the east I could have seen her. I heard no cries and no communication passed between us. We made for the spot where she ought to have been, but did not sight her. At the time of the collision there were no passengers on deck. I have been in the Cunard service eleven years and on vessels approaching the size of the Oregon for three years.

Cabin passengers of the lost Oregon had a meeting to-night, and a committee was named to confer with the Cunard people as to terms of settlement for lost baggage. The committee will report at a meeting Wednesday evening of this week.

THE OREGON'S MAILS.

Postmaster Pearson states that by the steamer Oregon, which sailed from Liverpool on the 6th and Queenstown on the 7th inst., there were dispatched [illegible] bags of mail. Of these about 113 were closed bags, containing 260 bags of letter mail for the United States and Canada, the balance being made up of about 470 bags of newspaper mail. Of the heavy registered mails estimated as containing about 300 letters and packages, dispatched by the Oregon, only a portion of the French, Italian, Swedish and Russian mail, ninety-four pieces in all, was received; the British and German registered mail being all lost. The British, German, Swiss, Swedish, Belgian, Portuguese and Cape Town money order lists from London, Berlin, Basle, Malmo, Antwerp, Lisbon and Cape Town respectively, and French money order advices were all lost, the Italian only being saved. Duplicate lists will be called for immediately, and these will probably be at once forwarded.

THE LOSS.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Tribune estimates the loss by the sinking of the Oregon, as follows: Steamer, $1,125,000; cargo, $500,000; personal effects of passengers, $150,000; mails, $125,000. Total, $1,900,000.

Nothing has been heard of the colliding schooner. [illegible] The word "Lila" as part of her name, was [illegible] seen for a moment, but no vessel with that or other name could have been [illegible] at the time. The Emma Cotton might have been in that neighborhood. There is little [illegible] the vessel with all on board went down.

OF INTEREST TO CATHOLICS.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Archbishop Corrigan has received an official letter from Rome in which it is stated there is a passage ordering him to dissuade [illegible] Catholics from belonging to the Knights of Labor. That the injunction to enforce the [illegible] of the church to break up the Knights of Labor was not generally [illegible] is indicated by the fact that [illegible] archbishop of Quebec [illegible] his denunciation of the Knights and for [illegible] Catholics to remain in a chamber. Bennett may be expected home in two or three weeks.

THE LABOR TROUBLES

Jay Gould on the Missouri Pacific Strike.

THE SITUATION AT ST. LOUIS

Strikers Slowly Returning to Work—The Texas & Pacific Road Open—Trouble in the Coal Regions of Pennsylvania.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 15.—Jay Gould to-day, speaking for the first time respecting the strike by Knights of Labor on the Missouri Pacific and remaining portion of the Gould Southwestern system, said to a representative of the associated press:

I first learned of the strike while at Havana, and have been advised by telegraph of the character of the trouble more particularly since my arrival here. The strike on our system was a complete surprise for two reasons: First, we had acceded to all demands which had been made upon us by our employes, and were supposed to be working in harmony with them; second, the present strike is made upon an issue with which we have nothing to do, and which we cannot possibly arbitrate or control.

The present strike, continued Gould, originates in the discharge of an employe named Hall, in the Texas & Pacific shops, which road is in the hands of the United States court. We have no more right to attempt to control the workings of that system than the working men themselves, and would be as completely in contempt to attempt to do so as any other outsider.

AN OLD ISSUE.

Remarking on other aspects of the strike, Gould said: The public may not be aware of it, but this same issue was raised when some men were discharged on the Wabash railway at the time when it was in control of the United States court. Powderly called upon me to secure reinstatement of these men. The subject was fully discussed, and I told Powderly I had no power in the matter, not even advisory, without request from the court. At that interview I told Powderly that if any grievances existed among our men, if he would bring them to our attention we would endeavor to right them.

As to the future, Gould said: "I am advised that great numbers of the strikers are not in sympathy with the movement and will return to work as soon as assured protection by the civil authorities. It is our intention to resume operation as fast and as soon as the protection is afforded."

A WAR AGAINST THE PUBLIC.

In conclusion he declared that he did not care to discuss other features of the strike, beyond the statement that the company could not possibly join hands with the Knights of Labor against the United States supreme court in their war on another system which he asserted the present strike involved.

Gould further said that the Knights of Labor had evidently discovered already through public sentiment that they were exercising their power in favor of an issue strictly against law and order, and that it was more of a war against the general public than the road. It was closing manufactures along the line of the road and was stopping shipment of coal and other commodities to points where the people were liable to suffer great deprivations. It was more of a fight on the public than the company, but the latter in protection of its lawful right would exercise every lawful energy to meet the demands of its patrons in opening the road in all departments.

Gould said he was in receipt of telegrams from manufacturers and others saying they would be compelled to shut down, but at the same time placing no blame on the company or its management.

RESTRAINING ORDER ISSUED.

LITTLE ROCK, March 15.—To-day a bill was filed by attorneys of the St. Louis & Iron Mountain railroad against J. L. Delay and others, representing the Knights of Labor, alleging their seizure and mutilation of their property, and obstruction of business of the railroad company, and asking for an order restraining all parties from trespassing on their property, and interfering with the business of the company. Chancellor Carroll granted a temporary restraining order.

THE SITUATION AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—One of the new switchmen on the Missouri Pacific was assaulted by strikers and knocked senseless. One of his assailants was arrested.

Missouri Pacific railway officials did not attempt to move freight trains. Accommodation trains, however, have been running on schedule time, and have not been interfered with.

It is asserted in railroad circles that a circular emanating from the East St. Louis assembly of the Knights of Labor was served this afternoon upon representatives of all the roads centering in East St. Louis, demanding an increase of wages for all shop and yard men and stating that if the demand is not complied with by next Thursday the men will be ordered out.

PURCHASE OF ARMS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—A special to the Times Democrat from Shreveport says: A rumor that arms were being purchased here to-day, to be used against strikers at Marshall and along the line of the Texas & Pacific road, for protection of property, etc., created no little excitement. An investigation developed the fact that U. S. Marshal Reagan, of the eastern district of Texas, sent a request to the railway agent to purchase a number of the latest improved Winchester rifles, for use of his deputies. Several were purchased and forwarded, when the agent states, a telegram was received stating that enough had been secured through United States authorities, and purchases ceased.

THE TEXAS & PACIFIC OPEN.

DALLAS, Tex., March 15.—Receivers Brown and Sheldon have received notice from the United States marshal that the Texas & Pacific railroad is now open from end to end. At Big Springs twenty-eight mechanics have gone to work in the car shops meeting with no opposition. At Marshall notice has been given that the company will put men to work this morning. All trains are moving on the transcontinental division.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

ATCHISON, Kas., March 15.—Officials of the Missouri Pacific have advices from Downs, Kansas, on the Central branch of that road, to the effect that striking Knights of Labor there have accepted the company's terms and have returned to work.

CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT.

SHERMAN, Tex., March 15.—Marshal Cabell and five deputies left here last night for Dallas with four prisoners charged with contempt of court in attempting to obstruct traffic on the Texas & Pacific roads.

FREIGHT MOVING.

LONHAM, March 15.—Three freight trains arrived from the east yesterday on the transcontinental division, and two were sent out. The yard is full of transfer freight.

OTHER LABOR TROUBLES.

A LITTLE BOYCOTT.

CLEVELAND, O., March 15.—The boycott of J. F. Seiberling by the trades and labor assembly at Akron, O., assumed a new phase to-day, when all boarding house keepers were informed that they would be boycotted if they gave shelter to workmen imported to take the places of the striking moulders at the Empire mower and reaper works. A boycott will also be placed on the tenants of every dwelling and business house owned by Seiberling in Akron, if not vacated at the expiration of the present leases. The trades assembly of Chicago has also been notified to take similar action regarding buildings owned by Seiberling in that city. Ferdinand Schumacher, owner of the Windsor hotel, who has opposed Seiberling in the courts, came to the latter's rescue with an offer to furnish accommodations for all the imported workmen, even if he had to supply them with cots in the halls of the hotel. The feeling on both sides is growing very bitter.

HUNGARIANS ON A STRIKE.

PITTSBURG, March 15.—A Dubois, Pa., special says: Three hundred Hungarians at the Walston mines struck to-day for the Columbus convention scale. If they are successful it will entitle them to an advance from 40 to 4[illegible] cents per ton. This strike is a week in advance of the one ordered throughout the fortieth district, and was a surprise to everyone. Nothing will be done to settle the matter until Thursday, when it is expected that the operators will meet a committee of miners to arbitrate grievances. Should the arbitration committee fail to meet on the 18th next Monday 4000 miners will quit work.

THE STRIKE IN THE IRON DISTRICT.

PITTSBURG, March 15.—Several hundred of the striking miners of the Irwin district assembled at Irwin at [illegible] o'clock this morning, and, headed by a brass band, marched to the Manor valley mines and persuaded the working colliers to join the strike. All the mines are now idle.

STRIKE IN ROLLING MILLS.

PITTSBURG, March 15.—Some weeks ago laborers employed at the Clinton rolling mills demanded a 10 per cent advance in wages. All efforts to compromise having failed, the Knights of Labor have declared a strike for the first demand. About 500 are affected.

GIRLS ALSO STRIKE.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 15.—The ranks of [illegible] of a strike at the American rubber [illegible] increased to-day by 100 girls.

THE FIRE RECORD.

THE OIL MILLS FIRE.

TOLEDO, O., March 15.—The mills of the Toledo Linseed Oil company, which were destroyed by fire early this morning, were among the largest in the country. Over a hundred barrels of naphtha stored in the building exploded, shaking the whole city and shattering the window panes in the neighborhood. Two men on the opposite side of the street were badly burned and a number of others hurt. The loss is $100,000; insurance, $75,000.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla will do away with that tired feeling, and give you new life and energy.

The Oregonian,

PORTLAND, TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1886.

TO-DAY'S MEETING.

The meeting to be held at the court house to-day, at 2 o'clock, in response to the call of the mayor and other prominent citizens, is for a high public purpose. First, it is to compose the responsibility and respectability of the city into a definite body pledged for the maintenance of law and order in any emergency; and second, to relieve this community, so far as it may be done, from the shame brought upon it by its most vicious element. The story of the recent outrages has gone abroad to the infinite discredit of our city and state, and it is proper that it should be as widely known that the great bulk of our people are opposed to lawlessness. It will be part of the business of the meeting to express in emphatic terms the sentiment of this public respecting the conduct of those persons who have driven Chinese from their homes and followed this outrage with robbery, incendiarism and attempts to murder. It is important that there should be the fullest representation at such a meeting, and the merchants of the city, with almost unanimous accord, have agreed to close their establishments, to permit the attendance of all who may wish to be present, and thus publicly take a stand for law and order.

FROM AN INDUSTRIAL POINT OF VIEW.

They who started in to expel the Chinese from the canneries on the Columbia river were obliged, after the "agitation" had proceeded some length, to admit that the canneries could pack no fish if the Chinese did not remain, but that the result of their expulsion would be to throw large numbers of white men out of employment and cause great loss to business; and thereupon they desisted, induced thereto partly by sums of money, which the leading "agitators" put into their pockets as the fruit of blackmail. So the Chinese are to stay, confessedly for the reason that the fish-packing industry can't go on without them.

In California there is loud protest on the part of farmers and fruit growers against the proposal to drive out the Chinese. At a recent meeting of more than one hundred fruit-growers of Vacaville and vicinity, representing over 5000 acres of orchard and vineyard, resolutions were adopted setting forth the injury that would be inflicted upon themselves and upon a great industry if they were compelled to do away with the help of Chinese during the coming season. "The present condition of the labor market and the spareness of our population," they say, "make it absolutely impossible to carry on the business of fruit culture here without the employment of large numbers Chinese laborers." In Mendocino county a meeting of hop-growers has been held, at which "resolutions were adopted declaring that all or nearly all the means of the representatives of that industry had been invested in the machinery necessary for the production of hops; that the greatest difficulty has been found in procuring the necessary hands for hop picking; and that we, in necessary self-defense, find it to be our duty to ourselves and families that we should oppose all means that may be resorted to by any and all persons to deprive us of the labor we may engage to save our crops after they are ready for the picking."

The Alta California, noting a demand made at an anti-Chinese meeting in San Francisco the other day, that congress appropriate money to charter ships to carry the Chinese away, says: "What man believes that congress would do any such thing? It would make a laughing stock of the state. It makes us lament the quite superior sagacity of the late O'Donnell, who, with all his follies, never proposed to ask the United States to charter ships to send back home a hundred thousand people specially invited here by treaty and guarantee of protection." The Alta adds: "When Acadie witnessed the forced expulsion of a population, ruin brooded her borders. The progress of France was blocked for near a century by banishment of the Huguenots, and Spain to this day feels in her flesh the pinch by which she tortured Moor and Jew. These Chinese are neither Acadians, Huguenots, Jews nor Moors, but they are one-tenth of our population and they control our labor system. We are not wasting any sympathy on them when we say that a radical expulsion in their case will visit upon California the usual evils of inconsiderate tampering with public questions by men who have nothing to lose, and never will have if its possession depend upon their earning it." The Fresno Republican says: "The simple assertion that there is plenty of white labor in California to do all the work if the Chinamen were evicted en masse, is not a satisfactory answer to the important question put by the fruit-growers and vineyardists as to where they will get the great amount of labor necessary to harvest and prepare their crops for market this fall."

The Sacramento Record-Union publishes the proceedings of a meeting of fruit-growers held a week ago at Newcastle, at which resolutions were adopted declaring that "the Chinese are among us under a solemn treaty, and while such treaty exists they have a right to the protection guaranteed to any honest person while in pursuit of an honest living;" and that, "in order to compete with other orchardists of this state, we feel obliged to employ Chinese labor during the present season at least, or until other labor can be trained to take its place; and, also, as our fruits must nearly all be sold in the markets of the East, to compete with the local products of those sections, it must here be produced at the lowest possible cost to be profitable to the grower." Thus is our experience on the Columbia river in the fish canning industry verified in the great agricultural industries of California.

Some days ago a land owner who lives a few miles out of Portland, where he is clearing off heavy timber in order to bring his land into cultivation, was in the city. In relating his experience in clearing land he gave substantially the experience of all who have wrestled with this important problem. If the clearing of land costs more than $30 an acre the owner cannot possibly afford to clear it. The low price of all produce of land utterly precludes it. But the land which he could get the Chinese to clear for thirty dollars or thereabout, he could not find white men to clear for three times the money. Several times he had made the effort to get white men to do the work. He had bought them tools and provisions, and they would eat up the provisions, do no work that amounted to anything, and then leave. If he tried the plan of hiring by the day, the land would not be worth what it cost to clear it. He had employed Chinese through necessity, and his neighbors had done the same. If they did not do it their lands would remain for an indefinite period unredeemed from the forest. Covered with forest they were valueless; cleared and in cultivation they yield an income every year, and give a return to white labor employed in their cultivation. In the states and territories of the Pacific slope there are hundreds of thousands of acres reclaimed from marsh and forest through Chinese labor, which otherwise would be uncultivated and unproductive for an indefinite time.

Now in talking about working men, it must be remembered that the small farmers of the country, the owners of these small tracts of land, are at the head of the list. Nobody else works as these farmers do. No eight or ten hours for them. Their day is from twelve to sixteen hours. They work early and late. To them the labor of the Chinaman is a positive boon, and they think they are entitled to avail themselves of it, in spite of tramps and vagrants who call themselves white workingmen, but who want to eat up the hard-working farmer's substance, make him pay more than he can afford, and do the least possible amount of work for the money. To agriculture the Chinese have been of more service than to any other industry. In this they have not helped the rich, but chiefly the hard-working farmer of very moderate means.

These illustrations might be multiplied at great length, but it is needless. It is enough to say further that the greatest present need of our country west of the Cascade mountains is the performance of a great deal more of the same kind of labor as that performed on these forest lands during the last ten years. In this employment there is room for every Chinaman here. So employed, they will not only not be in the way of white labor, but on the contrary will open to white labor new and wider avenues of employment.

ITS STATUS WELL KNOWN.

The bogus paper says it "has never approved lawlessness." It forgets that it not only approved but applauded the Tacoma outrage, and that it gave its support to the Seattle rioters. And since the occurrences at these places, by which the inevitable consequences of "agitation" were put in plain sight, it has, by indirection at least, approved every act of the lawless proceedings which have brought shame upon this community, paralyzed business and industry, and which now make it necessary for our citizens to organize to protect life and property. It has aided to the utmost of its ability to bring about these things, and now when the consequences are upon us it seeks to escape responsibility. Its course is easily traced. It chuckled mightily when the Chinese were driven away from Oregon City. It has tried to create the impression that the dynamite explosion in the city was the work of the Chinese themselves. It has insisted that the Chinese evicted from many places were not robbed. It has declared that the burning of Chinese houses was the work of Chinese themselves, or the result of accident. It has spoken repeatedly in deprecatory tones of the attempts made to enforce the laws against the kuklux, whose recognized organ it is. It has avoided any kind of mention of some of the most flagrant kuklux outrages. In numberless instances it has treated of the outrages committed upon Chinese by driving them away from their occupations and property as highly praiseworthy, or at least quite excusable. It has not dared, since the Seattle riot, to say these things in plain words, but it has intimated them by methods quite as well understood. It has had no word of condemnation of any one of the series of acts of lawlessness as they have transpired; but it has found fault with the officers of the law because of their attempts to do their duty. It has questioned as far as it dared the proceedings against the conspirators in the courts of the United States, and has sneered at the officials who have been doing their duty: it has spoken against the organization of the sheriff's posse as a needless and unwarrantable expense, and has not uttered one word against outrage or in favor of order and law since the "agitation" began. The conspirators know on which side it is; hence by resolution in their congress they made it their organ. Law abiding citizens know on which side it is; hence they universally condemn it. Even now, though lyingly declaring its loyalty to order and law, it expresses in a long article its hostility to the meeting to be held to-day in support of order and law. The tone of its article urges that the meeting is ill-advised and useless, and that it will even be injurious to the city. Is such a paper a journal of law and order? Bah! It is a journal of outrage and riot, and its status is as well known as that of any other disreputable and dishonored thing.

A CALL FOR BRAKES.

It is a fact leading to well grounded alarm in this community that the invitation extended to habitual criminals through the agency of "Col." Hamilton's News, "Hon." John Myers's "congress" and the doings of "Nat" Baker's committee of fifteen, to come here has been very largely accepted. In consequence, villainous looking men infest our streets at night, skulk about the outskirts of this city and East Portland by day, beg for food, as a pretext to spy around private dwellings, make themselves acquainted with routes taken by citizens on their way home after business hours, in order that they may waylay and rob them, break into houses for booty and drive Chinaman from their homes at midnight by threats of murder, after robbing them of money earned in the lowliest vocations.

The work of the habitual criminal is seen in all of these lines, and in his presence here is seen the work of the agitator and the demagogue. Other communities in order to protect themselves from the depredations of this class have instituted such rigorous proceedings against them that they have been compelled to move on. Their descent upon this city proves the eagerness with which they act upon an indication of tumult to hie themselves to its locality. The Chinese question is nothing to these scoundrels; the labor question is nothing: honorable employment is the last thing that they desire. Well versed in the lore of crime they recognize in the efforts of agitators the most potent measures for preparing a harvest for their reaping, and lose no time in betaking themselves to a field that has been plowed by envy and sown with discontent.

It is for the purpose of formulating measures to hold this crew in check, of teaching criminals that the representations that brought them hither were misrepresentations of the spirit of this community that the mayor of this city has issued the call for a meeting of citizens this afternoon. The import of this call is well understood by the vagrant, wandering, criminal crew that are here at the behest of agitators and demagogues, and as soon as they understand that the reputable, substantial law-abiding people, the men whose homes, whose lives and whose business interests are menaced, will have no more of these criminal proceedings under cover of a labor question, they will decamp, and with them will go the occupation of the "leader" and of the journal that has been his faithful mouthpiece.

NEED OF A SANITARY LAW IN PORTLAND.

The time has come in Portland when common sanitary rules should be enforced by law. This is the custom in all considerable communities, and experience has proved it to be a wise one. No matter how favorable the opportunities for house drainage, etc., there are always some people who, through an affinity for filth, or from parsimony, or from carelessness, will not make use of them. Then there are housebuilders and plumbers who will not attend to their duties properly unless compelled to do so by law, and made to suffer severe penalties for careless or incompetent work. If only those who are at fault had to suffer the consequences, there would be little need to complain; but oftener than otherwise the penalty falls upon persons entirely innocent. It happens not infrequently that those who observe every precaution, so far as their own premises are concerned, suffer from the poisons generated in the premises of an unclean neighbor. There is just one way to remedy the evil, and that is by a definite and simple sanitary law properly administered. We are quite ready for it. The city is now well provided with sewers, and all that is needed is that every house should be connected with them and that such connections be properly made.

Several severe cases of infectious disease have occurred recently in Portland as a consequence of bad plumbing. In one case two children of a well known merchant have had typhoid fever in its worst form, and one of them is not yet through with the dangerous stages of the disease. In looking for the cause, it was found that the connections between the family residence and the street sewer were open tubes without traps, affording a clear and easy passage for the gasses which generate in the sewer. The plumbers who made these connections knew of course what would be the consequence. Is there any punishment too severe for men who do this kind of work? Nothing but the law and fear of its penalties will reach such men. A sanitary law we must have.

It is asserted that the Ohio law in regard to habitual criminals, which provides that those convicted of a third offense are punishable by a life sentence, is the most advanced step ever taken in prison reform by any American state. Those who devote a large portion of their time to the investigation of criminal records and reformatory measures in connection with punishment for crime are strong in the belief that this step marks the beginning of a new era in dealing with criminal classes. It needs no argument to prove that the men who, by repeated offenses have attained the rank of habitual criminals, are too dangerous to be permitted to run at large in any community. They are the teachers, the organizers, the captains of crime. Without their leadership the great majority of criminals would be like raw recruits in an army without officers. An illustration of this is seen in the state of affairs that exists in the Northwest to-day. The rank and file of strife breeders and malcontents who are ready for outrage and eager for spoil would be practically harmless but for the skill of the habitual criminals who lead, organize and direct them.

General John Pope will retire this week, and the president will be called upon to appoint a major general to succeed him. General Howard is next on the list, and Generals Miles and Crook are active candidates. It is believed by many that General Newton, chief of engineers, will get the appointment. The president might do a great deal worse than to appoint General John Gibbon, of whom it is said that during his whole career he has never applied for promotion or favor, never asked for pleasanter service, never failed to do his whole duty bravely. There is no man in the army, not excepting its distinguished head, who has done braver or more valuable service than General Gibbon.

The agitator and dynamiter is resolved that the cause he is engaged in shall not suffer from lack of cheek and gall. So there is a meeting, at which the Chinese are denounced in bitter terms for blowing up their own houses with dynamite. There ought to have been another resolution, bitterly denouncing the "coolies" for running themselves out of their camps and habitations around the city with masks and pistols, and setting their houses on fire in the course of the proceeding. Here is a suggestion for "Col." Hamilton, "Nat." Baker or "Col." Gilson to work into the next series of resolutions.

Hanson, the "agitator," so we are informed, is traveling through the west side counties on an O. & C. railroad pass, issued as a courtesy to the Portland News. His real business is "agitation," but of course he could not "work" the railroad company for a pass on that "racket," and had, through the assistance of his friend and associate, "Col." Hamilton, to get free transportation by fraud. It is entirely in harmony that the bogus journal should have a bogus representative.

The Chinese ought to go. Baker and Hamilton and Crudlebaugh and Hansen and Gilson and Al. White can doubtless be depended on to cook and wash, pack the fish, clear the lands, pick the fruit and hops, raise the vegetables, etc., etc., and "good times" then, with all that the phrase implies, will be upon the country. The Chinese are not wanted. These are the fellows to take their places.

In the wreck of the steamer Oregon one of the most magnificent vessels in the trans-Atlantic service went down. Owing to the fact that daylight was just breaking over a calm sea, and that vessels were at hand to render assistance, the officers of the sinking ship were able to save the large body of passengers in their charge, and the entire crew, without the slightest accident.

To speak of the Le Blanche-Dempsey mill as one of the "most manfully fought fights on record" shows a strange misunderstanding of the meaning of words. "One of the most brutal and disgusting fights on record" would convey a more intelligent idea of a contest that left both of the human brutes that engaged in it battered, cut, swollen and bloody as "stuck pigs."

Reports of the Dempsey-La Blanche prize-fight speak of the victor as the "plucky New Yorker." Now this grieves us, for is not Dempsey a Portlander? Did he not promise to return here and set up a saloon? "New Yorker," indeed! We protest against being thus robbed of our justly celebrated fellow-citizen, the Honorable Jack Dempsey.

The assailants of Col. Phillips evidently counted upon the sympathy of anti-Chinese agitators who have been blowing about dynamite and encouraging outrage, and fully believed that they were entitled to the active co-operation of these brethren, since they did not go to the trouble and expense of hiring a horse to get out of town on.

"See that heathen coolie taking the bread out of my mouth," said "Col." Gilson, as he beheld a swill cart driven by a Chinaman roll by. And then he set off to seek condolence from "Col." Hamilton.

Does Manager Koehler know that one Hanson, professional "agitator," is traveling through the west side counties on a pass secured by false pretenses?

The bogus paper don't like the call for a meeting of citizens in behalf of law and order. It prefers the midnight raids of kukluxism.

The Campaign Publishing company of McMinnville announce that they will publish a republican daily commencing April 3 and running until after election.

Those who value the benefits of order and recognize the necessity of enforcing law should attend the citizens' meeting at the court house at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

A sociable will be given at the Calvary Presbyterian church this evening. An interesting programme has been prepared. A good time assured. All are cordially invited.

The Christian church, Columbia and East Park streets, has announced a Sunday school concert for next Sunday night. They never fail to have a crowded house on such occasions.

The county commissioners yesterday authorized the payment of a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who shot Col. [illegible] Phillips last Thursday night.

A subscriber at Clarksville, Tenn., writes under date of the 6th inst.: "Your 1st of January annual was quite a treat to the people of this [illegible]. It is still going the rounds. Twenty or more have read it."

W. W. Myers and a man named Frierson attempted to "boycott" THE OREGONIAN in Oregon City on Saturday. They called upon each subscriber and requested its discontinuance, but did not succeed in stopping a single subscription.

WAITE'S PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT.

The Salem (Oregon) Daily Statesman, in alluding to the printing establishment of Mr. E. M. Waite, of that city, publishes the following: "What we happened in his office yesterday and were shown, by Mr. E. M. Waite, the large stock of new type and printing material, cards, paper, etc., etc., which he had just received and was busily engaged in opening, we were not aware that Salem could boast of so large and complete an establishment for the execution of book and job printing of all kinds. Mr. Waite has the fastest and latest improved power presses, run constantly by steam, and with all these facilities, and an almost unlimited amount of material, he finds a difficulty in keeping up with his increasing business. In his business office we were shown a long line of cabinets filled with legal blanks, of which it is said he carries the largest stock in the state. His catalogue is sent free on application, giving the prices, rates of discount, etc. Connected with his office is a complete bookbindery, where blank books, etc., are manufactured in the finest style, and with low rates for all work. It is no wonder that he is constantly kept employed. His stock is purchased for cash in the east, direct from the manufacturers. Mr. Waite commenced business here in 1868, and by industry, economy and an honest desire to please, success has built up a business of which any printer might well feel proud. He richly deserves all the success he has achieved."

"What's Yours?" says Silter, and the response is, "An oyster and sherry."

A stereopticon entertainment will be given in Y. M. C. A. hall this evening for the benefit of the [illegible] church. Admission 25 cents.

The cut in freight rates enables us to also cut in prices. Choice new eastern hams at [illegible] cents per pound at F. Dresser & Co.'s, 261 and 317 Third street, [illegible] Jefferson.

Notice to Portland Merchants.

Taking effect March 12th, all freight, regardless of classification or quantity except coal oil, will be carried from Chicago to Portland at 65 cents per hundred pounds, and from St. Paul and Missouri river points to Portland at 60 cents per hundred pounds. These rates are not guaranteed for any length of time, and are subject to change without notice.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

MR. FECHHEIMER'S FUNERAL.—Yesterday afternoon the funeral of the late M. W. Fechheimer took place from the family residence, corner West Park and Montgomery streets. The announcement of his death was made in both departments of the state circuit court and both adjourned until this morning. Most of the attorneys being present, a bar meeting was called, Judges Smith and Stearns presiding. Messrs. Wm. Strong, C. A. Dolph, R. Williams, J. K. Kelly and J. F. Watson were appointed as a committee to draft resolutions appropriate to the occasion and to report this morning. The bar then resolved to meet at 1 P. M. and attend the funeral in a body. The U. S. court upon formal announcement of the death adjourned till Wednesday morning. Arrangements for the funeral, in obedience to the expressed wishes of the dead, were of the simplest character. The following members of the bar acted as pall bearers: Messrs. George H. Williams, J. K. Kelly, C. B. Wood, E. C. Hughes, C. B. Bellinger, C. A. Dolph, H. Y. Thompson and Raleigh Stott. The remains were laid to rest in River View cemetery. Remarks laudatory of the deceased were made at the grave by Mr. Bellinger and Mr. Hughes.

SEARCHING FOR HIS MOTHER.—On Sunday's overland express there arrived a boy [illegible] years of age named Maurice Costello, [illegible] came here from Dayton, Ohio, to find his mother, and on his arrival, not knowing her whereabouts, was taken to the county jail for safe keeping. Here an OREGONIAN reporter met and interviewed him. Young Costello said that his father was dead, and he had lived with his uncle, who is a drayman at Dayton, Ohio, and of his same name. The last he heard of his mother was of her leaving Chicago and coming to Portland, where he says she was married to one Phillip or Sam Dougherty. The boy was shipped out here by his uncle to find his mother with a large valise but no money. As the court house officials did not know what to do with the lad, Ira Powers, one of the directors of the Boys' and Girls' Aid society, was sent for. Mr. Powers, after a short conversation with the boy, took him home and will look the case up. Should the mother not be found Mr. Powers will look after his future welfare.

TENANT ASKS AN INJUNCTION.—Joseph D. Meyer, the cigar dealer, yesterday commenced an action in the state circuit court against Emil Weber. It seems that Weber leases that part of the Gilman house occupied by himself, Drugan the tailor and J. D. Meyer, from Capt. Gilman, for $400 a month, and sub-lets to Meyer and Drugan. Business in the Cosmopolitan saloon has not been extra good of late, so Weber has made arrangements to move out, and it is said the place is to be rented for a beer hall by M. Schneider. In keeping with this fixed programme Weber has had a closet put in just back of a passage way leading from the rear of Meyer's premises. Meyer objects to it on the ground that it is a nuisance, and that the placing of it there is in direct violation with the provisions of the lease between himself and Weber, and asks that the court enjoin Weber from establishing the alleged nuisance.

SHIPWRECK ON WAPATO LAKE.—On Sunday a terrific gale raged on Wapato lake. Four sportsmen of this city went out there on Saturday to shoot ducks. On Sunday two of them with their dogs and guns essayed to cross the lake in a shallow boat, and when about half way across the vessel went down with all on board. After she struck bottom the men stepped out and walked the rest of the distance across, dragging the boat after them, and with their dogs swimming in advance. They then walked back around the lake, two or three miles, packing their decoys.

NO MORE MIDNIGHT LOAFERS.—The chief of police has issued orders to the force to arrest every man seen on the streets after midnight except such as can satisfactorily show that their business requires them to be on the street. The captains have been instructed to look such men up, and under no circumstances to release them except upon proof that they have some honest occupation, and that their business requires them to be abroad after 12 o'clock. So it will be well enough for hoodlums to hunt their roosts before midnight and keep out of trouble.

BOOK SOCIAL.—Mrs. M. F. Hoxter, of Forest Grove, is to deliver a short address on the "Scientific Temperance Law" passed by our recent legislature, at the W. C. T. U. hall this evening. All teachers of public schools and educators generally are requested to be present. A short talk on books will be given by one of the ministers of the city, which will doubtless furnish the spice for the occasion. Each person in attendance is requested to bring one or more books as a donation to the circulating library. Ten cents admission, and refreshments free.

SERIOUS CHARGE.—F. L. Weideman, who lives when at home on the Shattuck ferry road, was given examination yesterday in the justice court of Madison precinct to a charge of lewdly cohabiting with his stepmother. Weideman's father, who is suing for a divorce from his second wife, went to Butte, Montana, some time since. A neighbor of Weideman's named George McKewon made the complaint. The accused, as a matter of course, denies that he is guilty. As he was unable to furnish $500 bail, deputy jailer Big George now has him under his tender care.

TO THE HOSPITAL.—Chief Parrish has sent Louis Delano, the crippled Frenchman whom some vicious persons burned badly in a saloon at First and D streets about a week ago, to the Good Samaritan hospital for treatment. Delano is in a bad way. Some of the persons who frequent the saloon admit that Delano received his injuries there, but say he was only made to sit on a hot poker. The nature of the man's hurts, however, show plainly that hot steam or water was used.

NEW MEN AT THE HELM.—Yesterday the Columbia River paper company made several changes in heads of departments in their large mill at La Camas. The new men are: Superintendent, John Dodd; machine tender, John Dodd, Jr.; pulp engineers, Peter Tommey and M. Tommey; finisher, J. Harrington. All five were formerly engaged with the Atlas paper mills of Appleton, Wisconsin, and are men of long experience in their various capacities.

DECREE IN AN INSURANCE CASE.—Yesterday in the U. S. circuit court a decree was issued in the case of Geo. H. Durham against the Fire and Marine Sun Insurance company, reforming the insurance policy and giving judgment for the plaintiff for $1500 and interest since January 17, 1884. This was a suit to recover the amount of policy on a warehouse near Dayton, Yamhill county, insured in the name of Wm. Burnell, Theo. H. Liebe, F. S. Larsen, Elizabeth Crane and Ad. Crane.

A HOME FOUND.—The Boys' and Girls' Aid society have found a good home in the country for David Gray, the youth who admits having attempted to fire the International hotel. Gray has for some time been acting as a trusty at the county jail. He is clean, bright and quick, and with proper care will make a good citizen. The authorities will without doubt allow him to go on probation. His case is a peculiar one and has already been fully reported.

OPIUM SMOKERS HELD.—Five celestials arrested Friday night under the provisions of the new state law for smoking opium, had an examination before Justice Davis yesterday and were held to answer before the grand jury. As none of them could furnish bonds for their appearance, they were ordered committed to the county jail. A sixth member of the gang, who swears he does not now, never did use dope, but simply visited the place, is to have his examination to-day.

NEW A. O. U. W. LODGES.—H. L. Jones, deputy grand master of the A. O. U. W., who has for a month past been traveling through Eastern Oregon and Washington territory organizing lodges of the order, got back to Portland Sunday. Mr. Jones established a lodge at each of the following places: Baker City, Echo, North Powder, Centre, Milton, Palouse City and Farmington. All of them start out with a good membership.

BIG DUCK SHOOTING.—Messrs. Millard Lownsdale, Ross Schenck and F. T. Dodge returned yesterday from a hunting trip to Bachelor's Island, bringing [illegible] dozen fine canvasback ducks as trophies of their prowess as hooters. The ducks were in fine condition. The canvasbacks had better hurry up and get off for the north, as they are likely to catch it hot while they stay in this vicinity.

RACE BETWEEN LAUNCHES.—The private launch Mikado and the government launch Dispatch met in the river Sunday. Both gathered their forces, but the ruler of Japan showed best speed, beating the Dispatch half a mile in three miles. She made the run from the Willamette's mouth to this city in one hour and seven minutes.

SAN GRAEL SOCIETY.—The election of officers of the San Grael society of the First Presbyterian church, last evening, resulted as follows: President, J. T. Ross; vice president, Miss Virginia Whiting; secretary, Miss Minnie Randall; treasurer, Mr. Wilcox; historian, Miss Emily Lindsley; organist, Miss Lamberson.

SOLD BY THE SHERIFF.—The sheriff yesterday morning sold the east half of lots 5 and 6 in block 116 in East Portland to Gideon Tibbitts for $17[illegible]. The property was sold on a decree taken in the state circuit court in the case of Gideon Tibbitts against M. F. Culver and others.

LUNCH.—To-morrow from 12 to 2 P. M. the ladies of the First Presbyterian church will give a lunch in the church parlors. Everybody invited. Admission free. See ad.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Wallace, of McMinnville, is visiting friends in the city.

A. S. Gross has returned from Ellensburg, W. T., and will remain for some time.

W. L. Lightner left by last night's steamer for Paso Robles springs, California, to be gone for some time.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wells, mother of Dr. G. M. Wells, will arrive here on the incoming steamer to make her home with her son for the remainder of her declining years. Mrs. Wells has reached three score and ten, and until recently has resided in New Mexico.

W. C. T. U.

At the nicely furnished and newly carpeted headquarters, on First near Columbia street, a number of the ladies met at the usual meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Shane Smith conducted the bible reading. Mrs. [illegible] also read an excellent paper to mothers on hygiene as a preventive of intemperance. Considerable business was transacted in reference to the Book Social to take place to-night and in regard to the visit of Miss Narcissa White, from Pennsylvania, who is expected to speak in Portland next month.

A PRUDENT INVESTMENT for any one troubled with a slight Cold, Hoarseness or Sore Throat, is a bottle of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, as it may save you from much suffering and no little danger. It is an old established curative, whose remedial qualities have been tested by thousands.

CITIZENS' MEETING 2 P. M. TO-DAY.

Late yesterday afternoon, at the suggestion of a few merchants, the following agreement was circulated and received the signature of nearly every firm to whom it was presented. It will be further circulated this morning, and there is scarcely a doubt that there will be a suspension of business all over the city for two hours this afternoon.

AGREEMENT TO CLOSE.

The undersigned hereby agree to close their respective place of business on Tuesday, March 16, 1886, from 1:30 to 4 P. M., to enable all who wish to attend the citizens' meeting at the court house.

PUBLIC MEETING.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PORTLAND, March 13, 1886.

In accordance with the request of a number of citizens, I hereby call a meeting of citizens of Portland, and all good citizens are requested to attend, at the court house on Tuesday next, March 16, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of considering the alarming growth of lawlessness in our midst, consequent upon the agitation of the question of unlawfully driving out of the country a class of foreigners who are here in pursuance of treaty and are entitled to protection under the law.

We all know of the disgraceful proceedings which have been enacted lately in Washington territory, at Oregon City, Albina, Mount Tabor and at our very doors here in Portland. They have been driven from their homes and their property has been destroyed by dynamite and fire.

A committee has been appointed at one of their meetings to notify the Chinese of this city to leave within a certain time, and we have every reason to believe from what has transpired around us that they mean what they say.

The city is full of men without any visible means of support, who have been driven from towns on the Sound and attracted here evidently for the purpose of riot when the time comes for the exodus of the Chinese. Our citizens are being assaulted and robbed and there is general apprehension of outrage. It seems to be high time for all good people to come out and show these disreputable outlaws that the local authorities will be sustained by the people and that law and order must and will be maintained in Portland.

JOHN GATES, Mayor.

THE COURTS.

John Dunne, arrested Friday near the head of Guild's lake by Constable Hight for threatening to kill Eugene Dhondts, is to have an examination to-day before Justice Davis.

Notice of an appeal to the supreme court has been filed with the county clerk in the case of [illegible] H. Cavanaugh, convicted October 20 in Judge Stearns's court of larceny. It is claimed that the court erred in not granting a nonsuit, that the evidence adduced was insufficient, and further that the court erred in instructing the jury to the effect that the state had made out a case.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

S. M. Elliott vs. Salem Capitol Flour Mills Co. Motion to make complaint more specific; set for hearing on Monday, March 2[illegible].

Angus Shaw vs. Salem Capitol Flouring Mills Co. Same.

Seeley vs. Peed; order to open depositions.

Adjourned till Wednesday, March 1[illegible], out of respect to the memory of Mr. M. W. Fechheimer.

APPEAL.

Some months ago State Treasurer Hirsch, as a legal representative for the state of Oregon, brought suit in the state circuit court against the county of Multnomah to recover delinquent state tax for the year 1884 to the amount of $[illegible]. It was claimed in the complaint that the county was liable to the state whether the county collected the money or not. The case was tried before Judge Smith September 26th last and a verdict rendered that the plaintiff recover the amount sued for and interest from April 7, 1884, amounting to $[illegible]. The attorneys for the county are not satisfied with this decision, so on February 2[illegible] they filed papers in an appeal to the supreme court for the reasons that the court erred—first in finding that the state was entitled to recover $6941 23 principal and $ 31 30 interest; secondly, that the court erred in rendering judgment for the plaintiff as against Multnomah county for the costs of the suit.

SUIT RENEWED.

Another suit by James Steel against George V. James and Tillie A. James has been brought in the state circuit court. It is a second edition of the same old case brought quite a long time ago and recently dismissed. Steel agreed with James to purchase block 175 Couch addition for $10,000. He paid $4000 and gave his note for the balance. James since lost his reason and Mrs. James was appointed as his guardian. Mr. Steel now asks for an order of court rescinding the contract as he never got a deed to the property, and for the recovery of the $4000 and his note for $6000, which he asserts the defendants threaten to negotiate. Plaintiff alleges that he has been ever ready to fulfill his portion of the agreement in accordance with the bond for the deed issued.

COUNTY COURT COMMISSIONERS.

Hearing of the petition of a number of citizens of East Portland for a reduction of the rates of ferriage on the Stark street ferry continued until the first day of the next term.

The matter of the construction of a road from Newberry road to the Portland and St. Helens road continued until next term.

J. L. Thomas tendered his resignation as justice of the peace of Bellwood and Joseph L. McGrath was appointed in his stead.

John Brindel was granted a license to sell liquor at Albina for six months.

LAW.

Dalgleish & Frazier vs. E. S. Willett; order set for trial before a jury at 10 o'clock A. M. March 20th.

The case of John Mock vs. Frank B. Jones set for trial March 20th to commence at 10 o'clock A. M.

PROBATE.

In the matter of the estate of John Bellow, deceased, W. B. Wood appointed guardian ad litem of the minor heirs. The executor has filed a petition asking leave to sell certain real estate.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT, DEPARTMENT FIRST.

The trial of Mah Jim for the second time on a charge of murdering a fellow countryman has been set for the 2[illegible]th and [illegible]th of the present month. Messrs. Woodward, Woods and Durham are Mah Jim's attorneys.

The case of J. Smith vs. [illegible] P. W. O. [illegible] is to be tried before Judge Smith some day next week, also that of Wagner vs. Sylvester.

The suit to collect a note, entitled H. C. Eckenberger against D. A. Richards, Carl Werngren and J. B. Garrison, has been settled and was yesterday dismissed by Judge Smith.

The case of Joseph Paquet vs. Sheriff Jordan and others has been set for trial in state circuit court, department No. 1, next Monday.

Judge Smith yesterday denied the motion for a new trial in the case of George W. Philbrick vs. Patrick Smith, and the plaintiff took judgment for the $6000 as per verdict of the jury. There were several points raised by counsel: first, that a certain juror was allowed to sit on the case who declared that if the facts he had heard and read of were true he had an opinion in the case. After reviewing the case carefully Judge Smith decided the juror was competent. The next was the consideration of the fact that a certain witness was not allowed to testify to seeing the plaintiff drink a glass of whisky. This was also deemed too trivial to allow a verdict to be overturned.

DEPARTMENT TWO.

Judge Stearns yesterday referred the divorce suit of Jennie Irving vs. Harry Irving to a referee to take testimony and report.

In the matter of the assignment of Howard vs. Thomas Martin, the receiver, James Taggart, was yesterday directed by Judge Stearns to file his supplemental report forthwith.

Edward Abbott, accused of entering the Esmond hotel and concealing himself under a bed with the intent to commit a robbery, pleaded not guilty. He will be tried Tuesday of next week.

Albert Gee, accused of larceny from a China man, pleaded not guilty. His case was set for trial Friday next.

Robert Williams, who stole Mr. Rinn's satchel, pleaded guilty and will be sentenced to-morrow.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court yesterday Ed. Whalen, a rancher who came into town on business and improved the opportunity by imbibing an undue quantity of spirits, was, on the showing that he was a new visitor at headquarters, let off with a fine of $2. A negro who gave the name of Arthur Davis was fined $10 for roaming about the streets at unlawful hours and in default of payment was sent below for five days. Davis has been before the court on two other occasions and is one of the numerous army of tramps who infest the city.

A dudish looking fellow named Frank Paulson was arraigned on a charge of vagrancy and by request his case was continued until to-day. A charge against John Gray, of stealing a pair of blankets from Mrs. Sharringhausen, was dismissed on the recommendation of the district attorney, as was the case against Lee Pong, a Chinaman arrested on suspicion of having stolen a satchel and clothing from the residence of Mrs. Otis belonging to Mrs. Bertha Smart.

Eugene Fierrald, who keeps a saloon at the southwest corner of Second and B streets, had an examination on a charge of striking John Murphy over the head with a knife. Murphy entered the place in a very drunken state and sitting down by the stove proceeded to go to sleep. Fierrald put him out several times, and the last time Murphy returned to the saloon, struck and knocked him down. Fierrald says he hit Murphy with a club, and other witnesses say a cheese knife was used. Judge Dement directed that the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon be reduced to one of assault and battery, and that he would pass upon it to-day.

On motion of Laing the bids were referred to committee of the whole.

STREET LIGHTS.

Mr. Wheeler moved and Mr. Laing seconded that the council go into committee of the whole for the consideration of the street light question. The motion having carried, Mayor Raffety called Councilman Wheeler to the chair.

After considerable discussion pro and con the following resolution was presented by Mayor Raffety:

Resolved, That the committee on fire and water be instructed to enter into contract with the East Portland Gas Light company for eleven gas lights and with any responsible firm to furnish all necessary fixtures and oil for nine oil lamps, said lights to be located according to the judgment of the committee on fire and water.

An amendment was then offered by Mr. Laing fixing the limit of the contract for July 1, 1886, and the resolution as thus amended passed.

The committee then arose and reported to the council, whereupon the above resolution was duly ratified.

THE U STREET BRIDGE.

A somewhat lengthy debate then ensued upon the U street bridge question, the outcome of which was that the city recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for building a new bridge at the point named in accordance with the plans prepared by the city surveyor.

On motion of Mr. West the grade at the intersection of Fourth and U streets was ordered changed from 13.50 to 14.50 to conform with the present grade of U street, and the recorder was instructed to give notice accordingly.

On motion of Wheeler the street commissioner was instructed to remove the barrels from the fire hydrants. Adjourned.

AN ADDRESS TO RUSSIANS.

The Vice-Consul Suggests to them their Duty in the Matter of Attempting to Expel the Chinese.

Last Wednesday evening the Russians of this city made their annual visit to Mr. George H. Wilson, the Russian vice-consul, the occasion being the anniversary of the birth of the czar. Mr. Wilson took occasion to impress upon his fellow citizens their duty in a matter of vital interest at this time. Here is the address:

Another year has rolled since March 10 last, when I had the pleasure to welcome you and for this continued compliment from my countrymen accept my acknowledgment. I feel grateful for your thoughtfulness, inspired by love and through affection for the land of your birth. Although distant from us, it still thrills patriotism in our hearts and in the nobleness of our minds.

I welcome you again upon this your annual visit with pleasure on this the 4[illegible] birthday of the ruler of the government which I have the honor to represent.

Alexander the present emperor, as you all are aware, was born the 10th day of March 1845, and crowned as the sovereign of one of the greatest and most wonderful governments of the world. In assuming the duties [illegible] publicly acknowledged to the people of Russia the weighty responsibilities and burdens which it hath pleased the Lord to lay upon him, with faith unshaken in His all powerful aid, and reverently invoked the blessing of the Almighty for His endeavors for the good and glory of Russia. It has been said that ever since his attaining majority, during the lifetime of his father, that his views were always liberal in politics and possessed even more than the usual force of will of the Romanoff family.

The power of the Russian empire has been demonstrated the last few years, and even since your last annual visit to this consulate one year ago. The statesmanship of its representative men is equal if not superior to any and all of the civilized or uncivilized nations and people on the eastern continents. The late Afghanistan embroglio the year '85 has fully demonstrated the fact, not only with those warlike eastern tribes in actual contact in arms, but also outmaneuvering the English [illegible] British cabinet and statesmen. Russia has moreover every political disposition for her national greatness and that she is gradually onward and will yet possess the key to India, to the contrary of the jealousy of other nations notwithstanding.

THE CHINESE AGITATION.

The principal subject that I have chosen to address to you my countrymen, this evening, is the Chinese question so much agitated among the people on this Northwest coast of America. You are aware that the Chinamen are in this country by a special invitation of the government of the United States and a solemn treaty with China that they have a guarantee of protection by the government of the United States to pursue all peaceful avocations equally with immigrants from the most favored nations, and whilst peacefully pursuing their various occupations and employments they are entitled to the protection from the American people fully as much and equally with all the inhabitants thereof. We may all depise the race on account of their peculiar habits and the demoralizing effects they have in the community in which they live, yet it is no excuse for the people to drive or in any way mistreat them or interfere in their lawful occupations.

The recent troubles first at Rock Springs, Wyoming territory, and followed more recently on the coast at Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia and other neighboring cities and towns in Oregon, are the most atrocious and astonishing disgraces to America, and should not be tolerated by well disposed people. The president of the United States in his special message to congress on the 2d of this month in reference to the Rock Spring says: "This outrage upon law and treaty engagements was committed by a lawless mob. None of the aggressors, happily for the national good fame, appear by the reports to have been citizens of the United States. They were aliens engaged in that remote district as mining laborers, who became excited against the Chinese laborers because of their refusal to join them in strikes to secure higher wages."

Now it seems that the lawless mob were all foreigners, and may be the same within our own fair state; but I hope and trust that my countrymen are showing better judgment than to be engaged in such unlawful oppressions on human beings and against the peace and welfare of this good government. I would feel most proud to know that all Russian born, whether naturalized or not residing within this consular district, will take sides with law and order and earnestly support the laws that give you protection. Let it be said that Russians are the best law abiding, well disposed people of the aliens of the United States.

Strikes and strife in every community always lead to discontent and sorrow. Should any of my countrymen have been unhappily advised and taken part in the late outrages against Chinese, I entreat them in their own personal interest to withdraw themselves and live in peace with all mankind.

Peace always brings joy and gladness to man, but strife and trouble brings sorrow and discontent.

Let it not be inferred that I am in the least encouraging the Chinese labor or in any way sustaining Chinese in our presence. I would wish that there were none of them in our midst. My political course during life has always been strong against the Chinese introduction into America. I never employed one, never had confidence in one of them and most earnestly would desire their removal peaceably to their own country.

I will again thank you for this friendly visit from my countrymen. I sincerely appreciate these gatherings. You are always welcome to come, and especially on the birthday of the emperor, which is considered one of the great national days of our native country.

Delays are Dangerous.

If you are pale, emaciated, have a hacking cough, with night sweats, spitting of blood and shortness of breath, you have no time to lose. Do not hesitate too long till you are past cure, for taken in its early stages consumption can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, as thousands can testify. By druggists.

A Case Not Beyond Help.

Dr. M. [illegible] Henderson [illegible] speaks of a remarkable cure of consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quick Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst, and I had no idea she could recover."

Rumors of a Crisis in Gladstone's Cabinet.

PROCEEDINGS IN PARLIAMENT

Gladstone Stands Firm for Home Rule—Notes from Dublin—Agrarian Reform in Poland—Egyptian Notes

LONDON, March 15.—The Globe this afternoon states that at the cabinet meeting held Saturday Trevelyan secretary for Scotland and Edward Heneage chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster both tendered their resignations. The reason given by both was their disinclination to support the Irish policy outlined at the meeting by Gladstone.

Heneage authorizes the contradiction of the statement that he has resigned the office of chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster.

THE SITUATION CRITICAL

LONDON, March 15.—The Daily News says: Mr Chamberlain disagrees with Mr Gladstone not on the subject of home rule but on the land question. It is likely that Mr Chamberlain will resign during the present week. The situation is critical. The cabinet meeting which is to be held to-day will probably decide the question of who shall leave the ministry. Whatever happens Mr Gladstone is determined to submit his Irish scheme in its entirety to parliament.

[illegible]

LONDON, March 15.—Mr Gladstone authorizes the statement that he will take no notice of various versions of his Irish plans that have recently been given to the public. He says that all stories that have been published regarding his intentions with respect to Ireland are entirely baseless.

It is understood that the premier hopes to be able to present his Irish programme in the house of commons on Monday next.

Mr Trevelyan denies that he had tendered his resignation as secretary for Scotland.

GLADSTONE'S HOME RULE SCHEME

LONDON, March 15.—The Standard says: "It is supposed that Gladstone's scheme for the government of Ireland proposes the establishment of a single chamber of parliament at Dublin and embodies the principle of the council being represented [illegible] to send members to Westminster [illegible] portion to her population but in proportion to her contribution to the imperial revenue. Under this scheme there would probably be [illegible] members of parliament. The police [illegible] and are to be under the control of the government of Dublin. Provision is made for the use of the imperial forces when needed for the security of life and property."

PROCEEDINGS IN PARLIAMENT

LONDON, March 15.—Mr Gladstone [illegible] his usual place in the house of commons this afternoon. He looked fairly well.

In the house a number of motions seeking the rehabilitation of [illegible] standing [illegible] which notices had been given were postponed.

Mr A J Mundella president of the board of trade [illegible] the different British consuls in the United States had been instructed to inquire into the alleged frequency of employment of British seamen in America and to take the necessary steps to protect them from the practice in the future.

Mr Gladstone stated that the government had decided to [illegible] a special commission to inquire into the advisability of transferring the surplus population of Great Britain to the colonies.

Messrs Chamberlain, Trevelyan and Heneage occupied their usual seats.

Lord Charles Beresford conservative moved that in view of the large number of workingmen out of employment and the cheapness of labor the present time is opportune to suspend the sinking fund in order to place the navy in a state of efficiency.

The fact is commented on that Thomas O'Connor had a lengthy [illegible] on in the lobby to-day with Herbert Gladstone and Arnold Morley and afterward conversed with Mr Parnell.

A [illegible]

NEW YORK, March 15.—In a London special to the Herald James [illegible] says: It is now conceded that nothing can be done without a dissolution of parliament. An intelligent member of the tory party says: I will vote for home rule and [illegible] thirty other conservatives. We feel that [illegible] toward Ireland was a great blunder. The result will be that it will close the house of lords and disestablish the church and we want to save the union. These views represent a growing feeling among the reasonable element of the tory party. The change in the temper of the parties in the house toward home rule is due to the profound change in the constitutional elements of the house of commons itself. The new parliament is essentially [illegible] workingmen [illegible] the sense that its members attend seriously to their [illegible]

[illegible]

LONDON, March 15.—Belt the sculptor was to-day found guilty of misdemeanor in having obtained money of Sir William Abdy by false pretense and was sentenced to [illegible] years imprisonment at hard labor. His brother Walter [illegible] and tried with him was acquitted.

A SECOND APPEAL

LARGE REVENUE FROM [illegible]

CAIRO, March 15.—The Egyptian government expects to derive a large revenue from the result of the discovery of petroleum in the Khedive's dominions.

RUSSIA

AGRARIAN REFORM IN POLAND

WARSAW, March 15.—Agrarian reform is making progress in Poland. Many of the provinces are [illegible] nating land to small holders and expropriating estates of large owners. This policy it is believed will win the sympathy of all the Poles.

IMMENSE SNOWFALLS IN SILESIA

BERLIN, March 15.—Immense snowfalls are reported in Silesia. Several villages are completely buried and the inhabitants compelled to [illegible] their way out. Five children were frozen to death while going to school.

IRELAND

ADVICE FROM PARNELL

DUBLIN, March 15.—Parnell publicly urges the members of the national party in Ulster to refrain from celebrating St. Patrick's day by demonstrations as a parade is likely to anger Orangemen. In his circular advising this course the Irish leader says: "Do not irritate Orangemen however misguided you may deem them. This is of vital importance now."

THREATEN TO RESIGN

DUBLIN, March 15.—It is reported that many Irish constables will resign if the force is placed under the control of an Irish parliament.

THE EAST SIDE

SCHOOL MEETING

A continuation of the annual school meeting for district No 21 adjourned from March 1 1886 was held last evening at the Central school building pursuant to adjournment. J A Newell, president of the board of directors was in the chair. [illegible] Berry, school clerk read the minutes of the previous evening's session which after some discussion were adopted. The meeting opened with the consideration of a resolution offered by H. Breitaupt on March 1 1886 as follows:

"That a tax of 2½ mills be levied and that the board of directors be authorized to borrow $7000 on the credit of the district and that the proceeds be used in building the main part of the Stephens addition schoolhouse and in purchasing a block of land for school purposes in the northern part of the district."

This resolution [illegible] considerable [illegible] and somewhat [illegible] discussion and was finally tabled.

After another interval of informal discussion the following resolution [illegible] by J Frank Davis was adopted:

Resolved, That [illegible] adjourn to meet March 22 1886 [illegible] to be held at the council chamber [illegible] between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock [illegible] on a proposition authorizing the directors to levy a 2½ mill tax on the property of the district and to issue bonds to the amount of $10 000 [illegible] contemplated improvement to the school houses [illegible] of the district to the extent of $16 000 at [illegible] per cent interest and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

Thereupon the president appointed the following gentlemen to act as judges at such meeting: John [illegible] S. Bernl, and J W Wilson with Herbert Dalton and A H McEwan as clerks of the same. There were present at this meeting only about sixty voters of the district consequently no more [illegible] the resolution finally adopted [illegible] legally have been had.

[illegible] CREAMERY

Mr [illegible] of the Portland Creamery Supply company [illegible] rented quarters in Logus's block corner [illegible] streets in which it is his intention to [illegible] about the 1st of April a steam creamery. Mr [illegible] idea is to buy milk in bulk from farmers and dairymen in the vicinity of Portland to separate the cream by the De Laval process, and supply the Portland market with fine cream and butter. Mr [illegible] has had large experience in this business and will doubtless bring the matter to a successful issue.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Mrs A McGuire who resides at the head of [illegible] street met with quite a serious accident yesterday morning and is prostrated in consequence. While standing upon a chair feeding some canary birds she lost her balance and fell heavily to the floor, the concussion being so severe as to render her unconscious. She was found in this condition a few minutes later by her daughter in law. Restoratives were immediately applied and when the unfortunate lady recovered consciousness it was found that her back had been severely strained. No serious results are apprehended, but the accident is nevertheless to be regretted.

LIKELY TO GET WELL.

The friends of Mr. Hillery Cason (and they are legion) will be glad to learn that during the past forty-eight hours there has been a decided change for the better in his condition. The attending physician now speaks hopefully of the patient's chances of recovery.

NOTES

Mr W H Merrick returned on Saturday from a week's business sojourn on Puget sound.

H D McGuire is remodeling his residence at the corner of Ninth and I streets and raising it several feet higher.

Mr C E McBreen contemplates removing to The Dalles in about a fortnight where he will engage in business. The change is made necessary on account of failing health.

Two individuals found roaming idly about the streets were given quarters at the city jail by officer Atterberry last evening. These rainy nights are terrible hard on the professional agitator.

VANCOUVER'S NOTICE TO THE AGITATORS

VANCOUVER, March 15

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your last Sunday issue is an item which [illegible] with this city and I beg you to allow me space to make a correct statement.

On March 11 about dusk I received warnings from several sources that an attempt would be made that night to forcibly expel the Chinese residents from this city. As a public servant charged with the duty of preserving the peace and upholding the law within this municipality I could not disregard these warnings so I took such precautions as seemed to me sufficient to prevent any difficulty of the kind indicated. As the police force of the city is very small I thought it prudent to [illegible] number of private citizens to stand by.

All to whom I mentioned the matter readily agreed to respond and a small number of gentlemen [illegible] the remained on duty all night at my request. During the evening we met White and Cronen who were in the city. The conversation naturally turned upon the anti-Chinese agitation and I took occasion to say to them that while the people of Vancouver agreed almost unanimously that the Chinese were an undesirable class of population they were equally unanimous in their determination to uphold the laws to the full extent of their ability. I assured them that all classes—Knights of Labor, working men, merchants and professional men—had assured me of their support in any emergency that might arise.

White and Cronen disclaimed any intention to create a disturbance at that or at any future time in Vancouver. There being no occasion for it I did not nor did any member of my posse offer any indignity to them. We did not warn them to leave the city because we had no right to so, but we endeavored to impress them with the fact that any attempt to expel the Chinese from Vancouver by force would meet with determined opposition.

J RANDOLPH SMITH, Mayor

MR. CAMPBELL FOR GOVERNOR

ALBANY, March 1[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I noticed in your issue of Saturday a reference to the probable nominees of the prohibition party. Among the names was that of Hon T F Campbell for governor. Mr Campbell is justly considered one of the foremost men of the state and if his name is presented by the prohibitionist it will carry great weight. He is at least 800 votes stronger than any other man they could suggest and his nomination would not mean simply three five or seven thousand votes for that organization but would mean ten twelve or fifteen thousand. His nomination would recall the campaign of 1874 when the independent revolt of the people rattled our politics. Every decent law abiding patriotic citizen regardless of party should be pleased to help in elevating to the governorship of Oregon this distinguished gentleman who is the true representative of our foremost thought. But the question is would the democrats endorse Mr Campbell? While it is generally conceded that there are more republicans than democrats in the ranks of the prohibition party, still Mr Campbell's great personal popularity is with the party with which he has heretofore acted and there are a great many democrats in Oregon who would like to see the party lean more and more towards temperance. In fact there are democrats [illegible] who see that something must be done to [illegible] them to their organization [illegible] nomination of Mr Campbell by the prohibitionists would mean his endorsement by the democrats.

BUTTE'S POPULATION

MONDAY, March 15

Severe rain to-day and cold.

Arrivals of merchandise by rail in the past few days have been large, and a very heavy movement is looked for in the next ten days or two weeks. Shippers have ordered largely in the past few days at the low rates. Nearer home we also have lower rates. The O & C R R (west side) has made a down rate on grain of $2 from Gaston and points south. MARK LANE REVIEW

LONDON, March 15.—The Mark Lane Express in its review of the British grain trade during the past week says: Spring work is at a standstill in [illegible] of frosts. The position is very serious. The wheat trade is dull. Fine English red is [illegible] dearer. Sales of English wheat during the week were [illegible] quarters at [illegible] against 57 711 quarters at [illegible] during the corresponding week last year. There have been continued heavy deliveries of flour. Prices are not materially altered. The foreign wheat trade is gradually hardening. Supplies are unusually short yet English wheat [illegible] undersell foreign equivalents [illegible] Some sorts of imported wheats are ridiculously dear compared with native wheats. This difference is partly attributed to alteration in [illegible] years in London milling machinery. Four cargoes of wheat arrived, two cargoes were sold, three were withdrawn, and one California remained. Trade forward is more active, and prices are against buyers. The market to-day was slow. For English wheats 6d@1s more was demanded. [illegible] was 6d dearer. Oats were 6d dearer.

BEERBOHM GRAIN REPORT

LONDON, March 15.—Floating cargoes firm, dearer. Cargoes on passage and for shipment wheat turn dearer, maize quiet. Mark Lane—Wheat turn dearer, maize steady. California coast goes off coast 35s@35s 6d, just shipped or for prompt shipment, 35s 6d. Arrivals off coast for orders wheat small, maize nil. English country markets generally dearer. Farmers deliveries wheat past week 60 000 to 65 000 quarters.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with remedies of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure,
